

A photograph of two men in a dense forest. The man on the left is wearing a camouflage cap, a grey long-sleeved shirt, a tan vest, and dark pants. He is holding a small electronic device. The man on the right is wearing a tan cap, a blue long-sleeved shirt, a tan vest, and blue jeans. He is also looking at the device. The forest is filled with green foliage and thin tree trunks.

Global Alliance of Territorial Communities

Shandia mechanism launch

New York Climate Week

GLOBAL ALLIANCE OF TERRITORIAL COMMUNITIES

Aliansi Masyarakat Adat Nusantara

REPALEAC

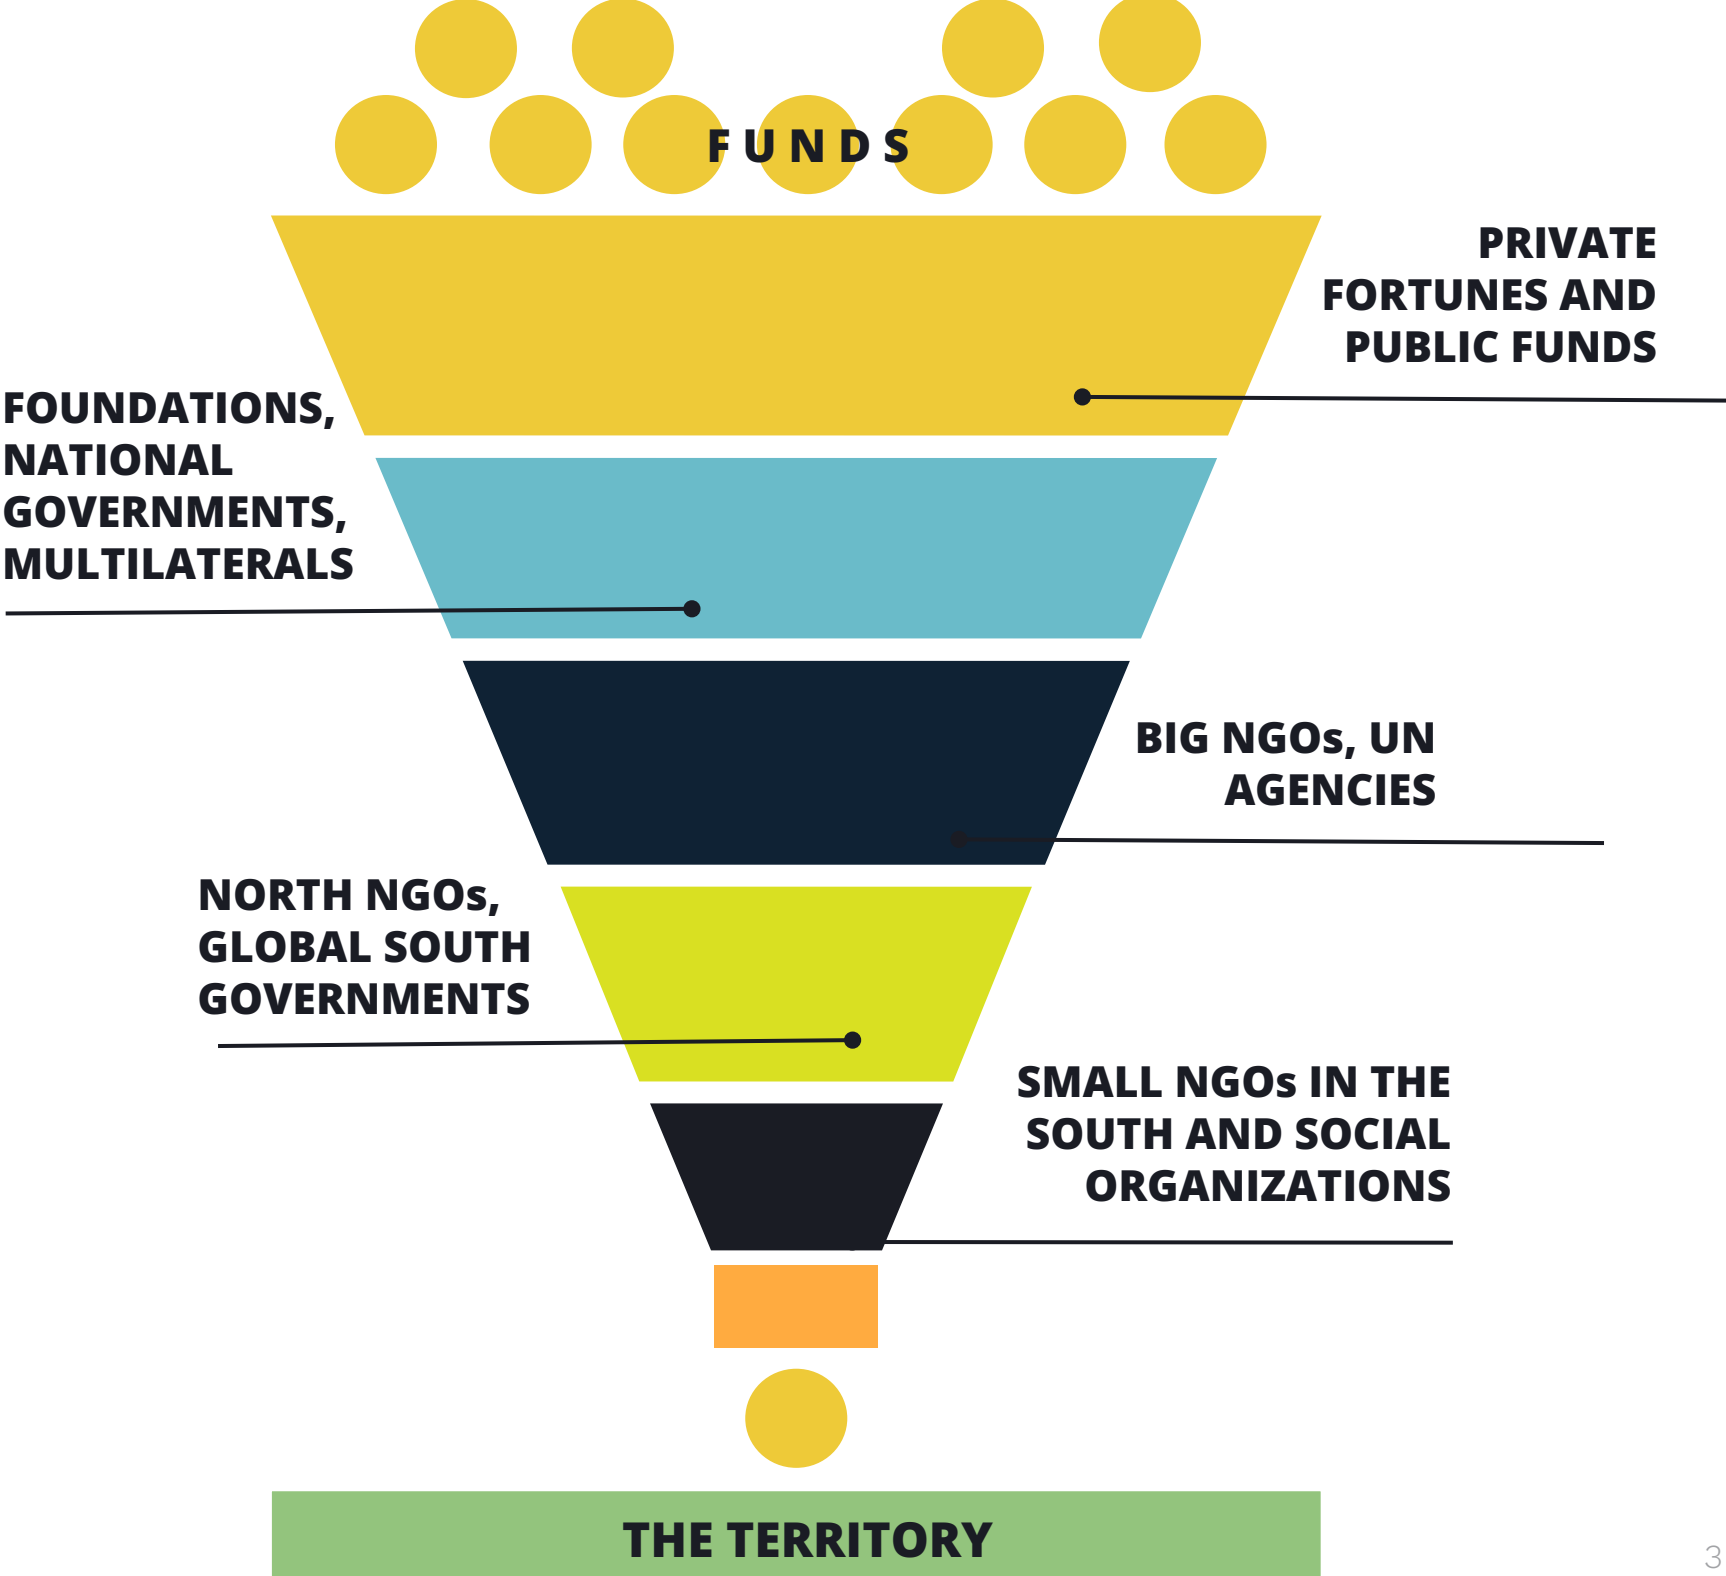

COORDINADORA DE LAS ORGANIZACIONES
INDÍGENAS DE LA CUENCA AMAZÓNICA

Alianza
Mesoamericana
de Pueblos y Bosques
Mesoamerican Alliance of People and Forests

THE GAPS OF INDIRECT FUNDING

THE ROAD WALKED: COP26 PLEDGES

- Recognition of IPLCs importance
 - Science recognizes the role that territorial communities play in the protection of key ecosystems. Governments echo this recognition in public speeches
- 1.7 on land and 19 billion on forests
 - Public affirmations of commitments to invest on tenure rights and protection of biodiversity
- The barriers for implementation
 - Limited implementation on the ground with bureaucracy, timelines and communications as some of the limitations

SHANDIA

Our response to get financing to the territories

Shandia is the platform created by Indigenous Peoples and Local Communities, to guarantee and facilitate access to direct financing for actions that stop climate change and land degradation and for the protection of biodiversity by local IPLCs organizations.

MISSION

The mission of the Shandia platform is to guarantee sustainable and timely access to direct financing for actions to stop climate change and land degradation and for the protection of biodiversity by local organizations from IPLCs. These actions include respect for the rights and autonomy of IPLCs organizations, strengthening their economic endeavours, and respecting the priorities and aspirations of their representative organizations.

VISION

Shandia is a global platform that facilitates territorial financing of Indigenous Peoples and Local Communities.

Shandia ensures the protection of Mother Earth by supporting the recognition of tenure rights, strengthening the management of territories, promoting community-based economies, and advancing the fight against climate change, the protection of biodiversity and the reversal of the degradation of nature.

What does Shandia look like in the territory?

Equipment and salaries for fire brigades

Core funding for women's observatories

Amplifying successful drone initiatives

01 Preventing and fighting forest fires

02 Protecting and supporting indigenous women

03 Using technology for forest monitoring

04 Growing networks of land protection protocols

05 Returning and leveraging indigenous youth coming back to traditional lands

Program design and execution to protect land defenders

Leveraging on the youth passion and energy to protect the territories

How will we do it?

PHASES

As Shandia takes form and is actioned on the ground, a series of steps are required to make it a reality. These are the 3 phases:

Readiness

Implementation of Global Component

Donor meetings
Priorities and agreements
Strengthening technical capacities
Shandia Structure & Governance Review

Implementation

Implementation of all component based on design & mechanisms

Regular meetings with Donors
Capacity building organizations
Strengthening GATC governance
Annual Sharing Learning

Consolidation

Overall evaluation

Lessons learned from the implementation phase
Roundtable GATC & Donor Meeting
Future Plan – Scale up

In my territory, it means funding solar panels that light up the pathway for female leaders

IF THIS IS HOW WE HAVE
PROTECTED OUR TERRITORIES
WITHOUT ACCESS TO FUNDS,
IMAGINE WHAT WE CAN DO WITH YOUR SUPPORT*

Learn more about Shandia and the GATC

www.globalalliance.me

@globalalliancet